

Matthew Thomas is a Policy Manager for the Healthcare Leadership Council (HLC) a coalition of chief executives of the nation's leading healthcare companies and organizations. HLC advocates for consumer-centered health reform, emphasizing the value of private sector innovation. It is the only health policy advocacy organization representing all sectors of the health care industry. Matthew joined HLC in June 2020, where he works on issues related to delivery systems, payment reform, health information technology, patient safety, and healthcare quality.

Matthew received his Juris Doctor degree from American University Washington College of Law and his Bachelor of Arts from Furman University. Matthew was previously a legal intern for the House Energy and Commerce Committee and Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee.